Abbeville Bible Society.

Rev. Dr. L. Ross Lynn, president of the Thornwell Orphanage, will preach the sermon at the anniversary meeting of the Abbeville District Bible Society, which has held its annual meetings in this city for more than ninety (90) years. The parent society in New York which has entered its second century is only a few years older. The Thornwell Orphanage, while a Presbyterian institution in management, is by no means sectarian in its work and care for orphans, as many of the children and friends of other denominations can testify. We hope the friends of the Bible, and Bible work all over the county will take advantage of this opportunity to honor the Bible cause, and incidentally make the acquaintance of Dr. Lynn the head and representative of our orphan children's home.

A. B. Morse,
Treasurer of Bible Society.

DO HOGS LIKE TO SWIM

OR LIE IN COOL SHADE?

All hog raisers know the value of water for their animals during hot weather—fresh, clean water for them to drink and a pool or wallow for them to get in when they are too hot. A good "swimmin' hole" reduces the feed bills and many hog raisers find it pays to have a concrete water basin in their hog lot.

There is one on the experiment farm of the United States Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md. It is provided with a covered frame which furnishes shade. It was noticed that during the heat of the day the hogs did not get in the water but preferred to lie around the edge of the pool in the shade. This year another pool has been built in an adjacent hog lot, but the shade will be provided several yards away. Hogs are to be kept in both lots and it will be noted whether they prefer to get in the water or to lie in the shade during the heated part of the day. Weights will be kept of the animals in the different lots to see which makes the most economical gains.
